That memorable canvass will not ress in several districts throughout the whether if elected they will take their seats in the regular Congress of the United States or in such a Congress, made up of Southern rebels and Northern copperhends, as President Johnson may choose to organize and recognize. Our exchanges inform us that the copperhead candidates refuse to commit pernead candidates refuse to commit themselves on this point. They will not answer as to their course. This is not strange considering the platform on themselves on this point. They will ot strange considering the platform on which they are all running and the Presidential auspices under which they are to be elected, if election to make the dangerous experiment of they are to be elected, if elected at all. They are getting all the benefit of the Executive patronsge, and in the nature of the case are what would have become being placed under obligations to Mr. these candidates made haste to join the Johnson. We cannot afford to make the experiment of electing such men. The bare possibiliy of what might happen should deter us from running any risks in a great crisis like the present. Reading and crisis like the present. Reading and observing men cannot shut out from their view the fact that the whole copperhead organization throughout this country is now strongly imbued with country is now strongly imbued with the doctrine enunciated in their party United States. Let us vote for no man ountry is now strongly imbued with rgans and in the late speeches of the organs and in the late spectnes of the President, that the present Congress is a "Rump" Congress, and that it is an illegitimate body "hanging on the verge of the government." from other prominent copperhead candidates and spokesmen, showing that there is at this time, and has been for some time past, a general understand-ing that the President's course in regard to setting up an opposition Congress at Washington will be governed wholly by the result of the elections. His undoubted preferences are to assemble together the Southern rebels and their Northern sympathizers, and ignore the Congress in which Thad. Stevens and Charles Sumner sit as members. The question for the people of West Virginia to determine is, as we have said, whether their three repre-sentatives shall go to Washington pledged and instructed to take their seats in the Congress now existing or in the one that President Johnson may endeavor to call into existence. We should understand exactly the status of those whom we propose to elect. We may make a most fearful and irretrievable mistake. If we made it, let us do so with our eyes open, and not blindly. TO PURCHASERS SEPT.-FALL TRADE-1866. New Goods

PIANOS

THE GREAT REPUTATION OF THE LASSE Fland has indused makers of inferior instruments to represent to their customers that the Pianos they sell of their customers that the Pianos they sell of their customers that the Pianos they sell of their customers that the Pianos they say the same as the Keebe, made by working formerly employed by them, for, etc., etc., for This is, an old dodge, and one that is only practiced by mannitacturers, who cannot sell their instruments to the trade and consequently are compelled to force them on the market at any price.

This mode of doing business should be enough to convince purchasers at once of the enough to convince purchasers at once of the SULFARIORITY OF THE KNABE. The SULFARIORITY OF THE KNABE, The mark fact of small makers taking them as the STANDARD, and working upon their reputation should be all the byfidence necessary. CHOICE DRESS GOODS, Irish Poplins and Plain and Corded Silks sary.

It is a well known fact that all first class Plano manufacturers have their established agencies and dispose of their goods through

Is well enough known throughout the United States to stand upon its merits, and it is not necessary to PEDDLE them. through the country or send agents from door to door to sing their praise.

The proper way for purchasers to supply themselves is to apply to a responsible agent, where they know that what they buy is just as represented.
